Privacy statement

Personal data, communicated by the data subject or obtained legitimately by Jean Verheyen, data controller, may be processed by the company with the purpose of maintaining its internal people database, managing insurance policies and claims, for customer services, managing the relationship with the insurance broker, for the detection, prevention and fight against fraud, for combating money laundering and terrorism financing and for risk acceptance, portfolio monitoring and statistical studies. These processings are necessary for the performance of the insurance policy, for the compliance with a legal obligation or for the purposes of the legitimate interests pursued by Jean Verheyen.

In as much as personal data have to be communicated so that the purposes listed above can be performed, these data may be communicated to other companies of the AXA Group, to companies and/or persons in relations with them and to the competent public authorities. The data subject may request access, rectification, erasure or portability of his personal data, opt to limit their use or object to their processing. Where the data subject has given special, express consent for the use of some of his data, he can withdraw this at any time provided that this is not information that dictates the execution of his policy.

Jean Verheyen makes sure that any personal data transferred outside the European Union are protected appropriately.

The present privacy clause is not intended to be exhaustive and the data subject may obtain more information by post to the following address JEAN VERHEYEN - Data Protection Officer, Rue de la Limite 17, 1210 Brussels.
